First Announcement

The Irrational Squared “PIPI” Meeting II: High Energy Processes and Compact Objects in the Universe will be held at the Planetarium in La Plata, Argentina, from November 4 to 6, 2026.

This year, the event will be dedicated to discussing theoretical, observational, and computational aspects of high-energy astrophysics and compact objects, particle physics, and general relativity. The meeting aims to foster interaction between different areas of physics and astronomy, promoting scientific cooperation and the exchange of ideas among researchers and students.

In addition to invited and contributory talks, and maintaining the interdisciplinary and collegial spirit that characterized the first PIPI Meeting, this new edition will include poster sessions. Among undergraduate and doctoral students presenting posters, the “Pipi” Vucetich Award will be given to the best poster, in recognition of the originality, clarity, and quality of the contribution. A committee appointed by the organizers will be responsible for evaluating and selecting the winning work.
